

Turning Tides

Youth Exhibition & Competition

Easy Read Information

About The Event

This is information about Turning Tides.

Turning Tides is a youth exhibition and competition, run by Transition Exmouth.

The event is on Saturday 8th August.

It is from 12pm until 7pm.

The event is at Open Door Exmouth.

Anyone can come to the event.

It is free to attend.

The event is about imagining a good future for Exmouth.

A future where people and nature both do well, together.

On The Event Day

Children and young people will show their art, music, writing and more.

You can vote for your favourite entry.

Some entries will be shown for a long time at Sideshore Community Hub.

There will be a 'Big Feelings' workshop.

This is a safe space to talk about feelings about climate and nature.

There will be sensory play and wellbeing activities.

There will be community sharing and speakers.

There will be live music.

How To Enter The Competition

You can enter the competition too!

The prompt is:

Imagine a sustainable future for Exmouth where people and nature thrive together.

You can enter on your own, or in a group.

If you enter in a group, everyone must be in the same age group.

You can make almost anything.

For example: a picture, a song, a poem, a film, a dance, or a game.

If you have a different idea, contact us.

We will help you make it happen.

Who Can Enter

You can enter if you are 8 to 21 years old.

You must live in Exmouth, or go to school in Exmouth.
